FORSYTH BARR

Forsyth Barr Commentary

Three Years at the Meridian: Meridian Energy (MEL) has done an outstanding job to stay ahead of the rising bar and remain at the top of the table for three years in a row — since the inception of our ratings. MEL's Social score lifted to an A+ this year due to its strong five-year health and safety record. MEL was proactive during a period of low fuel supply in winter 2024, calling its demand response agreement with NZAS and assisting Contact Energy (CEN) to purchase gas from Methanex, helping to ensure that New Zealand had enough electricity supply. MEL also scored an A+ in the Carbon and Environmental categories due to its 100% renewable generation and a strong commitment to waste management, biodiversity, and the circular economy. The company's Governance score is impacted by its government ownership (considered a blocking shareholder), and its long auditor tenure — though we acknowledge MEL's auditor is appointed by the Auditor General and not within its control to change.
