Forsyth Barr Commentary

Marching On: Solidly planted in the Fast Follower category, Stride Property Group (SPG) has done well to hold its overall score steady year-on-year. We point to an improved Carbon score as the highlight, where rolling over to five years of greenhouse gas emissions data in its inventory supported its A- in this section. An improvement to C+ in the Environmental section is also a positive but allows plenty of room for further improvement. Slightly disappointingly, SPG joins the queue in the Property sector where its Social score was unable to keep up with the methodology changes. Improving its Governance score to an A- is positive, helped by being one of just four companies to have remuneration for its senior executives linked to achieving sustainability performance embedded into both its short-term and long-term incentive plans.
